

Practical Activity 5: Different socks – Game meant for the stimulation of diversity

Description of the Practical Activity: Kids are asked to come to kindergarten wearing different socks. A dialogue starts regarding the differences that make us unique. The main message is that people, like socks, are different, but equal. Each kid is asked to compliment the classmate on his/her right for his/her choice “I like that you chose the blue colour”, etc.

Link to file to be downloaded: <https://extension.psu.edu/programs/betterkidcare/knowledge-areas/environment-curriculum/activities/all-activities/we-are-different-we-are-the-same-teaching-young-children-about-diversity>

Do’s and Don’ts on how to deal with children: Key questions are recommended: “How did you feel when you classmate told you he/she liked your sock....?” “Do you think that if we all would have had the same socks we still would have liked all the other different aspects of socks?”

Example:

<https://www.facebook.com/EuroEdlasi/photos/pcb.1912498249001674/1912496992335133/?type=3&theater>

